Support Guidelines Review	)	Nunc Pro Tunc
Committee	)

The Order previously entered appointing members of the 2012 Iowa Child Support Guidelines Review Committee was incorrectly captioned. This Nunc Pro Tunc amends the caption and sets forth the Order as previously entered in its entirety:

The Federal Family Support Act of 1988 requires that every four years each state must review its child support guidelines “to ensure that their application results in the determination of appropriate child support award amounts.” 42 U.S.C. § 667(a). The Iowa General Assembly has entrusted the Iowa Supreme Court with the responsibility of this quadrennial review of Iowa’s child support guidelines. Iowa Code section 598.21B(1)(a). The court concluded its last review of the Iowa child support guidelines in 2008.

When conducting this review, federal law and regulations require the state to: (1) consider economic data on the costs of raising children; and (2) analyze case data on deviations from the guidelines. In addition, Iowa Code section 598.21B(1)(c) requires that review of the guidelines “[e]mphasize the ability of a court to apply the guidelines in a just and appropriate manner based upon the individual facts of a judgment or case” and “[i]n determining monthly child support payments, consider other children for whom either parent is legally responsible for support and other child support obligations actually paid by either party pursuant to a court or administrative order.”

With this order, the court establishes the 2012 Iowa Child Support

Guidelines Review Committee. Among other things, the committee shall do the following: (1) analyze information about the number of deviations from the Iowa guidelines; (2) study current data concerning child-raising costs and other economic measures; (3) compare Iowa's guidelines with child-rearing measures and the guidelines of other states; (4) review and consider the findings and recommendations of the Iowa Child Support Advisory Committee; and (5) consider other information deemed necessary or useful for thorough review of the current Iowa child support guidelines.

The committee shall complete its work and submit a final report to the court by December 10, 2012. The final report shall include the committee's findings, as well as any recommendations it may have for the court.

The court appoints the following persons to the 2012 Iowa Child Support Guidelines Review Committee:
